

THE RECORDINGS OF JOSIE MILES

An Annotated Tentative Personnel - Discography

MILES, Josie, singer born: Summerville, S.C.; died: Kansas City, between 1953 - 1965
Appeared in 'Shuffle Along' and 'Runnin' Wild' shows, toured theatres etc., acc by 'Black Swan Jazz Masters' (dir. by Arthur Ray early 1923). She recorded with Fletcher Henderson, also widely recorded for Gennett, Ajax, Edison, and Banner, many with Joe Davis groups. There are some religious recordings by a Missionary Josephine Miles for Gennett (May 1928), which may or may not be by the same person.
(W.C. Allen, Hendersonia)

JOSIE MILES

001 JOSIE MILES Long Island City, NY, c. Aug. 1922
Josie Miles – voc;
Q. Roscoe Snowden – pno
Please Don't Tickle Me Babe BS 14121, Document DOCD-5466

Q. Roscoe Snowden as accompanist noted on the label, therefore no reason to assume anybody else. He obviously is one of the many (?) early Harlem pianists using ragtime devices in their play, but swing them and so created the Harlem stride style. And he plays in somewhat comic manner, relating to the tunes' title.

Fletcher Henderson as accompanist noted on the label, therefore no reason to assume anybody else. Typical Henderson, and not that bad.

The trumpet player - whom W.C. Allen identifies as Joe Smith a little too hasty I think – might as well be the youthful Gus Aiken, a pupil of the Jenkins Orphanage of Charleston, SC. Many trumpet players in Harlem in the very early twenties definitely were under the spell of Johnny Dunn and copied him as well as they could. One of these was Gus Aiken who - on a couple of early recordings of Edith Wilson in 1922 - very probably has hitherto been mistaken for Johnny Dunn. But Aiken certainly excelled in playing in a closely imitated Dunn style, recognizable only by his softer tone and his looser inner rhythm (compare Edith Wilson's recordings of 1922 elsewhere on this website!). But, Joe Smith was a Dunn pupil as well and can be distinguished as such in his early recordings with Mamie Smith (compare Mamie Smith's recordings August 1922 to January 1923 elsewhere on this website). Yet, Smith is recognizably on his way to a very distinct own approach and smooth and rhapsodic style, away from the Dunn mould. And Smith was on tour with Mamie Smith all through 1922 and into 1923 and his presence on this date at least has to be seen very questionable. So, our man here – with his eighth triplets – for me is rather Aiken. The trombone player might well be Frazier and the clarinetist - from my knowledge - might possibly be Clarence Robinson, who was the only (?) reed player in early Harlem to come closer to the Western players like Johnny Dodds or Jimmy Noone. But he is a very shadowy figure and only very little is known of him.

The sounds from the piano are very light and I therefore could well imagine this to be Willie Gant, following his own testimony below, which, by the way, would be one of three only possibilities to have recorded with Josie Miles, besides sessions 004 and 005, perhaps. Compare Katie Crippen's session of March 1921 where Willie Gant suddenly inserts a piano solo into a tune played by a very early Henderson recording unit with Henderson on piano ('Play 'Em For Mama, Sing 'Em For Me). Gant is much lighter and airy in his approach than the strongly founded Henderson.

A banjo player can not be detected on these sides as listed in early editions of Rust and BGR which are based on the below cited excerpts of Record Research. It should, yet, be added that Spivey or Splivey could only mean Will 'Splivey' Escoffery, banjo player of the June Clark band of 1925 ('Blue Rhythm Orchestra' and 'Gulf Coast Seven' on records) and schoolfellow of the young Duke Ellington.

When considering that this personnel heard might possibly not come from the Fletcher Henderson circle we lose the reason to suggest Ralph Escudero as tuba player, who, nevertheless, did not join the Henderson aggregation before January 1923. Lacking any stylistic idiosyncracies of the tuba sounds we better list this player as unknown. This session 003 may be closely related to Lena Wilson's BS session of the same date c. Sep. 1922!)

Notes:

- Record Research 30: "Following this recording adventure, Willie recalled doing several others behind different blues singers on various labels such as Okeh, Pathe and Black Swan with the "Leroy's" personnel. He believes that he may have recorded behind Lavinia Turner, Katie Crippen and Josie Miles, to name some." "Leroy's Band": Gus Aiken, trumpet; Garvin Bushell, clarinet; Jake Frazier, trombone; Gant, piano; Spivy or Splivy, banjo; and Joe Banks, drums.

- WCAAllen, Hendersonia, p. 39: Joe Smith, cornet; prob George Brashear, trombone; poss Clarence Robinson, clarinet; Fletcher Henderson piano; poss Ralph Escudero, tuba. "Joe Smith is identified from his characteristic cornet breaks. The matrix numbers seem to place this somewhat later than the preceding three sessions (J. Moody, M. Straine, A. Copeland - KBR), and it may therefore actually be out of its proper chronological sequence, but is placed here because of Smith's presence."

004 JOSIE MILES

461-2 When I Dream Of Old Tennessee Blues BS 14133, Document DOCD-5466

463-1 I Don't Want You (If You Don't Want Me) BS 14133, Document DOCD-5466

The accompanists obviously play written down arrangements with very few ad-lib solos or band parts and identification is thus very difficult if not impossible. Yet, when comparing these players with those on the foregoing Josie Miles session, I believe to hear strong similarities and I am inclined to assume the same players here: Gus Aiken playing in moderated Johnny Dunn style, possibly Gus' brother Bud on trombone, and perhaps the enigmatic Clarence Robinson with his reedy clarinet tone and his western approach. And then the pianist might also be Willie Gant as assumed from a short piano break in the middle (ca. 1, 50 min) of the first title. But these names are faint assumptions and not at all secured in any way. This recording session might be seen in close relation to the foregoing session.

Notes:

- Delaunay: not listed

- WCAAllen, Hendersonia, p. 58: unknown trumpet, trombone, clarinet and piano.

- BGR*2: Joe Smith, cnt; Fletcher Henderson, pno.

The two following sessions have been listed as one in 'Hendersonia' and all editions of Rust and BGR. As I believe to hear different musicians on the two couplings I have taken my liberty to list these four titles in two sessions - against Allen, Rust and BGR. Unaware of the matrix numbers of the third and fourth listed titles, yet because of the documented record numbers I have changed the former sequence and placed the third and fourth titles of the previous lists before the first and second!

Again, the band parts are mostly written down and identification of the musicians is almost impossible. I nevertheless see the possibility of Gus Aiken here playing with his brother Bud. The clarinetist might be someone else but Clarence Robinson. The pianist plays integral parts of the beautiful and skilfully done arrangements, which might be a hint that these musicians are part of the below mentioned 'Black Swan Troubadours/Jazz Masters' and that they make up a well rehearsed band. This then could mean that the pianist is Arthur Ray as mentioned below, later to be known as accompanist to Bubber Miley on the 'Texas Blues Destroyers' sessions. There probably is a tuba player with the band.

Notes:

- WCAAllen, Hendersonia, p. 59: unknown trumpet, trombone, clarinet and piano. "Josie Miles went on tour with the Black Swan Troubadours in January and February, 1923." Again, the band parts are mostly written down and identification of the musicians is almost impossible. I nevertheless see the possibility of Gus Aiken here playing together with Bud Aiken in closely set parts, and possibly Clarence Robinson together with a hitherto unlisted alto sax player. Nothing can be said about the pianist who might be anyone or Willie Gant or Arthur Ray. At some instances I believe to hear a tuba behind the ensemble.

Josie Miles is accompanied here by Stanley Miller, an average pianist who also accompanied Bessie and Clara Smith on a few recording sessions. His name seems to be known from the Gennett ledgers. It is not listed on the labels. The second title is a nice rendition of Clarence Williams' and Clarence Johnson's well known tune.

As the labels of Gnt 5292 do not say anything as to the accompanist, yet, the same pianist's name is generally listed in the discos and I assume that this name comes from recording files. Solid but unassuming piano accompaniment with a sudden double-time break in between.

Oh yes, Louis Metcalf! And this is the same player as on sessions 010-1, 011, 012, 013, 013-1 of my Choo Choo Jazzers list. The piano playing does not show Cliff Jackson's characteristics as heard later and might well be by a youthful and not yet developed Cliff Jackson. Jackson's playing in fast tempo as in 'Lovin' Henry Blues' in the instrumental strain between vocal choruses should sound different – his left hand! – from that heard here. As comparison, please, listen to Martha Copelands 'Black Snake Blues' and 'Papa If You Can't Do Better'! Cliff Jackson is named in Bastin p. 34: this definitely is Cliff Jackson, although 2 years later. On the other hand, it does not show Mike Jackson's flowery right-hand treble phrases nor Hooper's rather simple chordal playing in the left hand. So, I'd opt for Cliff Jackson here respecting the distinct essential and strong accompaniment.

Is this really Bob Fuller?

If my CD serves me right, Rust and BGR are wrong here with their personnels, and there is Bob Fuller on clarinet instead of Metcalf on trumpet. It is certainly Fuller.

As before I cannot detect any distinct personal characteristics of Cliff Jackson, even more, this pianist probably is not a stride player, and may perhaps be Louis Hooper instead!

And there is no banjo. (I only hope, that Mr. Document did not put a wrong title on this CD, instead of 'Flora's Weary Blues'.)

This trumpet player lacks a lot of Miley's sharp-cut playing, yet shows some elements of Miley's style. He may be Miley, but I have my doubts. The downward quarter note runs answering Josie Miles are not Miley in my mind. If he is not Miley, he at least performs a good copy. The piano player definitely is not Hooper and might be Ray instead. But I assume that the identification of Ray has to be seen in connection with the Texas Blues Destroyers, and I therefore ask whether there are any documents in the Edison files supporting his identity. At this point I would like to say that nothing does report Miley to have played a cornet. All photographs show him to handle a trumpet. And if we want to be sincere in our research, we certainly have to get rid of this crazy adjoining a cornet to every trumpet player busy in the twenties! My listing the Document CD is based on the CD booklet as given. The take number is from BGR*4. All three takes - as usually issued by Edison - are reported to exist.

Obviously, there is neither trombone nor clarinet on these sides! The trumpet player very probably is the little known Harry Smith. The pianist shows details not accustomed by Hooper. He plays more melodically determined style with more variety than Hooper. Therefore I'd prefer Charlie Pryme, although I do not know anything of his style.

These three Edison sessions have been put on wax on one single day by the Edison company and they certainly feature the same accompanying band and are thus not commented singularly.

I would like to refer to Monette Moore's Vocalion session of 25 September 1924 where she is accompanied by members of the John Montague band: To my ears this is the same band, enlarged by the band's trombonist and an unknown banjo player. I believe strongly to recognize Rex Stewart and the band's clarinetist – Cecil Benjamin. Both men's interplay is comparable to that at the Vocalion sessions and the trombonist fits in perfectly. Therefore, and because of the temporal accordance I opt for the members of the contemporaneous Montague band. Piano playing is more chordal and voluminous than Hooper's, and John Montague might possibly be present, together with a banjo player who definitely is not Elmer Snowden. (Rex Stewart does not report a banjo player of the Montague band, but a drummer instead.)

This seems to be the same Miley disciple as before, but not Miley himself - nor Metcalf. And I do not think to hear Hooper and Snowden here. The Plaza people apparently have engaged people different from the Ajax stable, not to talk of the Edison men. Yet, the Miley influence is there – and probably wanted. And there is a slight similarity to Hooper, but not to Snowden.

As before I am convinced of Harry Smith's presence.

Now – with Ajax – we seem to be with the Miley / Hooper coupling again! But this certainly is Harry Smith on trumpet again! Essential, but not exuberant piano playing by Hooper. And Bob Fuller with his distinct vibrato and phrasing on the first title.

In the past I heard Bubber Miley here, and certainly Bob Fuller on the second title. But after discovering Harry Smith as possible participant in Ajax recordings in the second part of 1924 I believe to hear this distinct musician here.

I am not content with Hooper. This pianist may be one the other players around, Arthur Ray or Edgar Dowell, or even the man of the Edison/Plaza sessions of before.

I have no objection against Fuller and Hooper here. The banjo is very difficult to detect. But it is on both sides and can be heard best in the introductions. The banjo player very probably is not the exuberant Elmer Snowden.

 5829-2 It's The Last Time I'll Be A Pastime For You Ban 1499, Doc DOCD-5467

'Bitter Feelin' Blues' has two reeds, an alto player with a fast vibrato playing fast arpeggio runs through the changes - untypical of Fuller – sometimes using double-time phrases, and another, yet slow non-proficient alto – or clarinet? - player playing simple quarter note phrases.

The clarinet plays close to the microphone, which sometimes sounds like a second alto.
 'Thunderstorm Blues' has only one reed player on clarinet who is identical to the alto player of 'Bitter Feeling Blues' The clarinetist of this first title might be responsible for the "sounds"- cymbal crash, thunder, lightning and rain ?

'It's The Last Time ...' shows both reed men again on alto (and soprano?). The alto player with the fast vibrato could be Fuller. The other alto player should then be the rather mediocre altoist (or clarinetist?) from the first side, who must remain unknown.

There certainly is no distinct indication of Ernest Elliott's presence on these sides!

Louis Hooper probably is on piano. As Elmer Snowden is known also to play saxophone I ask if it might be him on the second – slow – alto? I would not hear a mellophone here. Instead I hear the slow player with a typical saxophone vibrato. Earlier on I thought this instrument to be a soprano sax.

I believe that someone attributed the banjo accompaniment because of it's stylistics to a white folk or "bluegrass" musician. It is above my competence to judge this. But I would certainly say that the banjo sounds are not in common with what we know of Snowden's style and sound.

This recording could not be examined! Any assumption of personnel has to be treated with the utmost caution, given that Miley's and Morris' trumpet/cornet styles cannot be confused. Therefore, their alternate listing only shows the unawareness of the originator of this note. This may also concern the naming of Frazier.

Fuller and Hooper may be assumed regarding the probability of their presence.
